

New limited edition cuvée at Domaine de Pellehaut

September 30, 2021 by MyVanCity

NEW LIMITED EDITION, NEW ARTIST

For this new cuvée, the Domaine de Pellehaut is honoring a new painter from Condom, Pauline Rouault.

For this 5th limited edition of the artists' cuvée, the Chateau de Pellehaut is celebrating an unprecedented blend at the estate: Sauvignon and Gros Manseng.

The originality highlights the creative spirit of the two brothers, supported by precise vineyard management that respects the environment, all enhanced by rigorous vinification using indigenous yeasts. This blend will reveal all the splendor of these two grape varieties, complementing each other wonderfully.

Developed to highlight all the explosiveness of Sauvignon and the delicacy of Gros Manseng, the 2020 artists' cuvée stayed for several months in vats on the lees to increase its aromatic intensity. While giving it a certain roundness, its mineral finish offers a fine and delicate length in the mouth.

This cuvée will harmonize perfectly with a scallop carpaccio accompanied by a mango coulis, a half-cooked sole meunière fillet prepared in brown butter, or even with fresh goat cheese and raisins.

This innovative cuvée is, like every year, in limited quantities. It highlights the creativity and dynamism of the winemaker and partners with a local artist for the creation of the label.

This year it was the turn of Pauline Rouault, better known by her artist name Poh and Co, a young sparkling artist from Gers, with a colorful and fresh style. Until the All Saints' Day holidays, you can discover its exhibition in the estate's tasting room.

Pauline presents you in a fun way ten Gers villages with a summery design, which fits perfectly with the times.

A cuvée which will delight the palates of wine novices as well as connoisseurs, where know-how and art are combined.

Where to find it: at our partner wine merchants and at the estate.
